

Conditional Use Permit Thresholds

April 2009

This map shows counties that have established thresholds (in animal units) for conditional use permits in an agricultural district. In addition to animal unit thresholds, many local governments consider additional factors before requiring conditional use permits. Those counties are depicted on the map with a gray color.

NOTE: Current state shoreland rules (MN Rules 6120.3300, Subpart 7C.) requires feedlot projects in shoreland to be reviewed via a CUP. Contact your local county feedlot officer or planning and zoning administrator to determine if your feedlot project is in a shoreland area.

DISCLAIMER: Information on the map is provided for general use only. Please contact the county or township offices for current and specific feedlot regulations.