

APPLICATION INSTRUCTION

2018 Minnesota Beginning Farmer Financial Management Tax Credit

Application Part A – Beginning Farmer Information

Complete basic demographic section and answer the 10 qualifying questions beneath.

- The beginning farmer must be a resident of Minnesota. Resident information: Residency Fact Sheet
- The beginning farmer must have entered farming in no more than the last 10 years. If the current year is the 10th year, the beginning farmer does qualify for this tax credit. The 10 years is based off of filing of farm income (schedule F) on tax returns.
- The land currently being farmed must be within the borders of the State of Minnesota.
- The beginning farmer must be or planning on providing the majority of the day-to-day physical labor on the farm.
- The beginning farmer's net worth must be under $816,800.
- The farmer must have previous farming experience.
- The beginning farmer must expect that their farming will become (if not already) a profitable enterprise
- You must submit earning projections showing a profit in the future. The number of years required would be equivalent to the number of years you expect it to take to become profitable. If completing the web version of the application, upload the form used to verify net worth. FSA form 2038 can be used, but is not required. www.fsa.usda.gov/Assets/USDA-FSA-Public/usdfiles/Farm-Loan-Programs/pdfs/direct-loan-apps/Form_FSA_2038_Projected_Actual_Income_Expense_Worksheet.pdf

Application Part B – Farm Financial Management Course Information

- The beginning farmer must enroll in a certified Farm Financial Management course. Complete the application with the course, out of pocket cost (outside of any grants, etc.) and instructor information. A listing of courses are available on MDA's website. www.mda.state.mn.us/grants/bftc.aspx. These are not necessarily an all-inclusive list. If there are programs that may qualify, contact the RFA for the potential certification of a program.
- You must include a tuition statement before your educational tax credit will be processed. If submitting for spring and fall tuition, please submit application after all course information and costs are known.
- Sign and date application and submit either via the web application (web application allows for a "virtual signature") or by printing out and mailing to:
